

Hand Exercises for Children

Information for patients, parents and carers.

This leaflet demonstrates exercises for children who have a hand or wrist injury and who are under the care of St George's Hospital hand therapy team. If you have any further questions or concerns, please speak to your therapist.

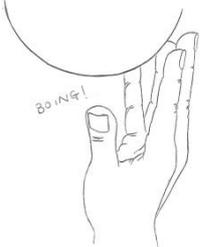

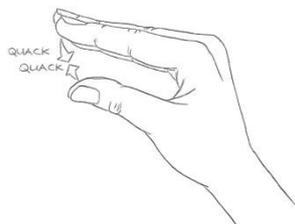

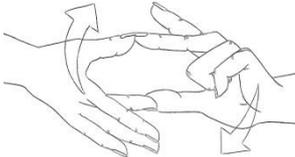

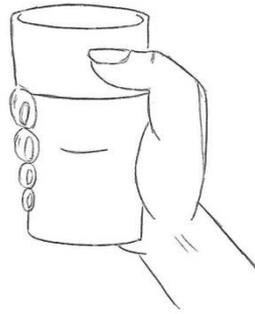

How might these exercises help your child?

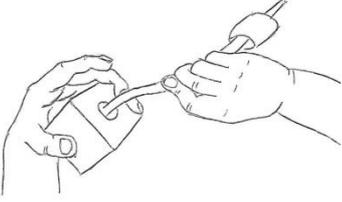

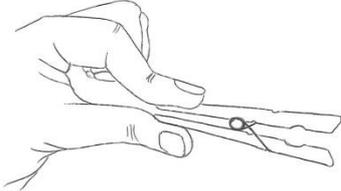

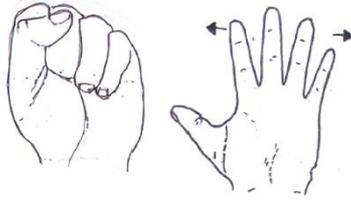

Exercises help to increase muscle and tendon function in the fingers, hand and wrist. They will help to improve individual finger movements (dexterity) and also larger grip formation in the hand. Exercises can also help to reduce swelling (if present).

How often should these exercises be done?

The following exercises need to be done _____ times each. Hold for _____ seconds.

Repeat _____ times/day. It is important to remember quality is better than quantity.
