

Intensive Care Unit (ICU) Family Liaison Service

This leaflet explains about the ICU Family Liaison Service (FLS). If you have any further questions, please contact us on the details overleaf. We support families whose loved ones are in all the ICU areas (CTICU, GICU, NICU, HDU) at the hospital.

What is the ICU Family Liaison Service?

The ICU FLS is trained nurses whose focus is to provide holistic family support. Having a loved one in ICU can be worrying and we are here to help you navigate this journey. Some ways that we can help:

- Finding out more about your loved one and making sure the ICU team is updated about anything you think is important.
- Giving you more time to talk through things that are worrying you and working with you to find out different ways we can help.
- Helping you keep connected with your loved one through virtual visiting and messages/photos, to complement face to face visiting. This can be important if you find visiting St George's difficult, perhaps because you live far away or have young children or elderly relatives to look after.
- Facilitating smooth communication, including feeding back your questions and concerns to the ICU staff.
- Connecting you with both internal and external services if you need help.

- Working closely with the ICU teams to maintain high standard family support.

Please note: The ICU FLS will not provide clinical updates about your loved one, this remains the role of the clinical team on the ICUs.

Who can attend / receive the service?

This service is available to all patients on the ICUs at St George's Hospital. We do accept referrals from clinicians, as well as self-referrals. Whenever possible, we will seek patient consent prior to contacting families. If a patient lacks capacity to consent, we will contact families in the patient's best interests.

Where do I need to go?

You do not need to attend the hospital to access this service. We predominantly work in supporting families via telephone and email contact.
